Project Focus:

The village of Caraballo is an interesting mix of the Dominican people and Haitian workers. Housing for the Haitian workers is deplorable with poor sanitation, exposure to weather conditions and closet-sized living areas. Teams and local workers construct basic dwellings with adequate shelter from weather and some basic sanitation.

summer in the Dominican Republic!

Tragedy to Triumph

These basic dwellings offer a huge step up from the hopelessness people there endure. Many of these new homeowners get on their feet and improve their own living conditions, adding rooms and upgrades to homes provided.

Spiritual Focus:

In the Dominican Republic, people are intrigued and interested for visitors to share about how Jesus has changed their lives! Teams participate in door-to-door evangelism, Vacation Bible School programs for kids, and showing the Jesus Film.

Team training emphasizes personal testimonies about specific ways God has worked in your own life, and how he can work in the lives of others through relationship with Christ.

Cultural Focus:

You gain an understanding of the culture through personal interaction with people, participation with local believers, and some site seeing. It is a mission trip you'll never forget!

About Our Organization...

For 20 years Sharing Teams have partnered with churches and media professionals to bring medical, construction and Christian broadcasting teams to serve in the developing world. Sharing International provides free health care, lasting development projects, and education to break the cycle of sickness and poverty. Mercy teams join in to make a difference. Teams renovate and construct orphanages, schools, clinics, churches, and homes for the homeless.
